

BROWN COLLEGE  welcomes

Sandra Beasley

American Poet and Non-Fiction Writer
November 5th – 9th

Director of Studies, John Casteen, has arranged the following events.

November 6th, Wednesday, 10:30-12 noon, Tucker Lounge

November 7th, Thursday, 7 – 8 p.m., 130 Monroe Hall

November 8th, Friday, 4-4:50 p.m., INST 2570, 130 Monroe Hall

November 8th, Friday, 5-6 p.m., Reception, Monroe Hill House

November 9th, Saturday, 10-11 a.m. Law Office, Coffee and Bagels with students

Sandra Beasley is the author of three poetry collections. Count the Waves (2015), I Was the Jukebox (2010), and Theories of Falling (2008). Sandra is the author of a memoir, Don't Kill the Birthday Girl: Tales From an Allergic Life, and her prose has appeared in The Washington Post and New York Times. She has won many awards and honors and worked as editor at the American Scholar and Vinegar and Char: Verse from the Southern Foodways Alliance.

Sandra is an Alumna of Brown College and received her B.A. in English at the University of Virginia and her MFA from American University. Her blog "Chicks Dig Poetry" allows her to work with those who have a disability. Sandra teaches with the University of Tampa's low-residency MFA program; serves on the Board for the Writer's Center and is a member of the Arts Club of Washington D.C.

Brown College cordially invites you to attend these events.